Haitian Icon · A Former Lead Singer of Magnum Band · Solo Legend

NEW SINGLE: “NOU LA” | KONPA / ZOUK | HAITIAN CREOLE | SUMMER ANTHEM 2026 | OUT JUNE 5, 2026

ABOUT ESSUD FUNGCAP

Essud Fungcap is a legendary Haitian musician and painter — one of the most enduring voices in Haitian music and art. Best known as a former lead singer of Magnum Band and Les Ambassadeurs, some of Haiti's most celebrated music groups, and through a prolific solo career that defined an era, Fungcap helped shape the cultural identity of a generation. Now at 81, he makes his long-awaited return — reconnecting with a legacy that never faded and introducing his artistry to a new global audience.

“This song is a tribute to our roots and to everyone across oceans and generations. It’s a global statement. ‘Nou La’ means we are here—joyful, vibrant, and ready to take our place on the world stage.”
— ESSUD FUNGCAP

ABOUT THE SINGLE

“Nou La” — Haitian Creole for “We Are Here” — is a driving, celebratory Konpa anthem and summer declaration of pride, presence, and joy. Produced by Simon “Vegas” Hesslein, the song arrives on June 5, 2026. Fungcap’s return with ‘Nou La’ isn’t just a nostalgia trip; it’s a brilliant redirection of Caribbean music into the modern global mainstream..
